SECONDARY ART STANDARDS IN SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST SCHOOLS

OFFICE OF EDUCATION | North American Division Seventh-day Adventist Church

Art Education Standards

OUR GOAL

The goal of Seventh-day Adventist education is about more than quality teachers providing innovative instruction. Adventist education aims to provide student learning infused with Christian faith and an Adventist worldview. To achieve this goal Seventh-day Adventist standards for grades 9-12 subjects have been carefully developed to embody Seventh-day Adventist beliefs and to prepare students for life-long learning, equipping them for earthly service and heavenly citizenship. An education of this kind imparts strong academic knowledge and a clear picture of Christ and His love for mankind.

These standards focus on what students should know, understand and be able to do. They will be a useful tool for teachers in developing lessons and ensure a thorough preparation for college or university when fully implemented across the curriculum.

Seventh-day Adventist Secondary Standards:

1. Provide clear expectations for student learning and accountability.
2. Provide an essential user-friendly tool for developing instruction.
3. Transform textbooks from curriculum guide to a resource for instruction.
4. Provide for a complete and uniform Adventist secondary curriculum.
5. Have been developed exclusively by Seventh-day Adventist educators.
6. Have been aligned with the goals of Journey to Excellence
7. Have been developed using national and state standards, Adventist curriculum guides, and standards compendiums from McRel and Ten Sigma.

RATIONALE

Secondary Art Education Standards for Seventh-day Adventist Schools seeks to ensure that the beliefs and values of our Adventist Christian faith are integrated into the curriculum. These standards should lead to instruction that helps students appreciate the richness of artistic expression, develop an emerging interest and skill in creating art, and assist in making informed artistic choices which will influence them throughout their lives. Instruction in art from this type of curriculum should help students learn to see and reflect God's image while developing proficiency in the areas of visual arts education—applying skills and techniques, creating and communicating, understanding cultural and historical connections, evaluating and deriving meaning, and in applications to life situations. This kind of education fosters the balanced development of the whole person to prepare them for earthly service and heavenly citizenship.

These carefully developed art education standards are a practical tool to assist teachers in focusing their instruction so that students achieve competence and are engaged ethically in utilizing and applying art in practical life situations. These standards reflect an appreciation for God's gift of creative and artistic expression in the visual arts as a source of personal enrichment, as a means for constructive expression of human emotions, and as a unique intellectual discipline. These biblically-based standards create meaningful connections within the visual arts and with other fields of learning. The intent is to focus on the essence of what students should learn, retain and apply to their lives.

Seventh-day Adventist secondary schools differ in size and resources resulting in a variety of visual arts education experiences. The limits to the scope of an arts education program may impact the implementation of some standards. In any case, creative visual arts education experiences should lead students to understand the beauty inherent in God's creation.

CREDITS

The following resources were referenced in developing Secondary Art Education Standards for Seventh-day Adventist Schools: a sampling of state standards (California, Florida, Georgia, Minnesota, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Washington), the Alberta Education Standards for Fine Arts, National Art Education Standards, NAD Curriculum Guide for Visual Arts Education, McREL Compendium of Standards, Ten Sigma Standards, and Journey to Excellence.

STANDARDS CODING

The standards and essential learnings have been coded so that educators can easily refer to them in their curriculum, instruction, assessment, and professional development activities. The coding system begins with the course abbreviation in letters, all are identified with ART—Art Education. The first numeral (ART.2.1) refers to the standard and the second numeral (ART.2.1) refers to the subcategory under the standard.

JOURNEY TO EXCELLENCE

When the standards on the next page have been met the instruction in this course will have also met some of the Goals and Essential Core Elements for the curriculum in Seventh-day Adventist schools listed in Journey to Excellence. The number (1.A) refers to the Goal and the letter (1.A) refers to the Essential Core Element that is met.
